Historical Note

Mayor Wes Uhlman convened the Sick's Stadium Task Force in March 1977. The group was asked to define criteria for a variety of potential uses for the stadium site, as the new Kingdome had replaced the facility as the city's baseball venue. The task force included representatives from the Building Department, Parks Department, Department of Community Development, and Mayor's Office, as well as citizen members representing neighborhood groups and local businesses. Their report was completed and submitted to the mayor in June 1977.

Content Description

Records documenting the work of the task force, including meeting minutes and agendas. Other materials include the group's work plan, background information about the stadium property, and neighborhood input, as well as a proposal from the United Indians of All Tribes for use of the site. The task force's work products - their proposed use criteria and final report - are also part of the series.
